

Green Night

at

The Morgantown Public Library

* Thursday February 18th ****

Please join the Morgantown Green Team* on Thursday, February 18th, from 5:00pm - 7:30pm, at the Public Library at 373 Spruce Street.

This month's topic:

Green and Clean:

Making Your Own Household Cleaners from Everyday Ingredients

This month's format: Lecture starting at 5:00pm with hands-on work and Q&A to follow.

The Green Team will have various educational materials and will have Karen Woodfork, PhD. presenting on matters relating to "green cleaning" with smart suggestions for making your home healthier. Please bring some empty containers to take your cleaning product creations home with you!

Karen Woodfork, PhD. is a Teaching Associate Professor of Physiology and Pharmacology at WVU and is well versed in the chemicals that show up in regular household cleaning products. She enjoys making her own cleaning products with natural ingredients and sharing her knowledge with others.

* The Morgantown Green Team is a group of citizens with interests in sustainable issues that advises the City of Morgantown on matters related to sustainability in public policy, planning, education, departmental management, development, and evaluation of environmental and energy related matters.
